

Conscious Leadership: A Strategy for Nurturing Culture and Engagement

Promotion

Culture is the energetic environment that gets co-created based on how people “show up” with each other and where they give their attention. Engagement soars in organizations with healthy cultures. Conscious leaders have an incredible power of influence on culture and engagement.

Join us for a dynamic and interactive presentation filled with tools and strategies to nurture culture and empower engagement through conscious leadership.

Our speaker, Georgine Madden, is a seasoned Organizational Development and Learning Consultant. She is highly regarded for her work in leadership development, employee engagement and wellbeing, and culture and team building. One of her greatest strengths lies in her ability to enhance growth and learning by relating concepts, strategies and skill building to unique organizational issues and goals. Georgine started her consulting firm, GEORGE, in 2002 with the mission to help organizations set strategies that link purpose, people, and performance, so that individuals, teams, and organizations experience growth and sustained success.
